Double-Degree Program Doctoral Course Division of Medicine
Application Guidance

Introduction of CAMPUS Asia Double-Degree Program

The CAMPUS Asia Double-Degree Program (DDP) aims to raise leaders in medical science and public health to solve global health problems, such as non-communicable disease, dementia and other age-related diseases. This program provides students with the opportunity to obtain simultaneously two Ph.D. degrees (each granted by one university), after accomplishing study and research at both universities and successfully fulfilling the requirements of each institution. This program is cooperatively established by Osaka University Graduate School of Medicine with the partner universities in Korea and China. Students will obtain the sense of ethics, harmony and comprehensiveness, and flexible ways of thinking as well as logical thinking.

Admission Policy

Based on Osaka University's Admission Policies, in order to nurture personnel suited to its education objectives, the Graduate School of Medicine is looking for individuals who:

- * meet the knowledge requirements noted below and aim to contribute to the development of world medicine, medical care, and life science.
- * aim to secure quality of healthy life for the local community as medical professionals.
- * hope to assist in nurturing excellent personnel responsible for the next generation.

The doctor's course welcomes persons possessing these qualities:

- * possess English proficiency capable of reading theses written by western researchers and writing theses in English.
- * have an undergraduate level of knowledge necessary for conducting research in medicine and life science as well as a master's course or higher level of basic knowledge in a specialized area.
- * have an excellent sense of purpose and a sense of ethics necessary for conducting medical research.
